

Residential Retrofit Program

In June 2013, DMME awarded LEAP a $200K grant to assist this Regional Energy Alliance and its teaming partners, RREA and CHP, to help transition their energy programs from exclusive grant funding to a more market-funded approach. The nonprofits reported in July 2014 that they had generated 2.5x that amount in program income through fees for services, including participation in rate-payer funded utility rebate programs, and solar campaigns. December 31, 2014 LEAP reported $665K (up from $400k in June 2014) in program income; CHP $187k (up from $102k in June 2014); and RREA $30k (up from $16k in June 2014).
