

EPA's Green Power Partnership Green Power Partner Mark Use & Reproduction Guidelines

I. General Guidelines

To maintain the integrity of the Green Power Partner mark, EPA requires that Partner organizations use the mark in accordance with the following standards and guidelines:

- Green Power Partners (i.e., organizations that have submitted a Partnership Agreement to EPA) are welcome to use the Partner mark to indicate that they are Green Power Partners.
- EPA recommends that Partners use the mark in conjunction with messaging about green power and their organization's partnership with EPA. For example, "We purchase green power in amounts that meet EPA's requirements."
- The Green Power Partner mark may not be used in any way that implies EPA endorsement of a product or organization.
- Organizations may not use EPA's Green Power Partnership Mark in place of the Green Power Partner Mark.
- All uses of the Partner mark should be approved by EPA. For further information, please contact Melissa Klein (klein.melissa@epa.gov) at (202) 343-9207.

II. Correct Use of the Partner Mark

By signing the Partnership Agreement, organizations enter into an agreement with the Green Power Partnership to use its name and Partner mark as described below:

- The Partner mark can be used on Partner Web sites and Partner information materials (e.g., brochures, annual reports) that are describing the organization as a Green Power Partner or discussing the organization's use of green power.
- Partners may only use the Partner mark in conjunction with the scope or level at which the organization has joined the Partnership. An organization may join the Partnership for a facility, a group of facilities, or for the entire organization on a national basis. If an organization joins the Partnership for just one of its facilities, or for any subset of the organization's U.S. operations, Partnership benefits—including mark use—extend only to that facility or subset of the organization.
- Partners are responsible for their own use of the Green Power Partner mark, as well as the mark's use by their representatives or third parties acting on their behalf.
- The Green Power Partner name should not be used in such a way as to imply that the Partner or Partnership is selling a green power product or service.
- EPA may change the terms of Partner mark use guidelines and has the right to terminate or withdraw license to use the mark.

III. Inappropriate Use of the Partner Mark

- Use of the Partner mark on products is not appropriate.
- The mark may not be used in any manner that would imply EPA endorsement of a company, its products, or its services. Neither the mark nor the name "Green Power Partner" may be used as part of any other company name, product name, service name, domain name, Web site title, or the like.
- The mark may not be altered, recreated, cut apart, separated, incorporated into other marks or logo designs, or otherwise distorted in perspective or appearance.
- The mark may not be associated with purchases of green power that do not qualify for the Green Power Partnership.

EPA Green Power Partner Mark: Use & Reproduction Guidelines

- Organizations that are not Green Power Partners (e.g., vendors of green power or other affiliated organizations) may not use the Partner mark; however they may link to the Green Power Partnership's Web site.
- Partners may not redistribute or sanction the use of the Partner mark on third-party Web sites, products, packaging, or other marketing or printed materials.

V. Violations of the Partner Mark

EPA monitors the proper use of the Green Power Partnership name and Partner mark. The following explains the general course of action for addressing mark violations:

- Anyone who misuses the mark will be contacted in writing or by telephone.
- A reasonable amount of time will be given to correct the error(s). The timeframe will depend on the medium in which the violation appeared and the severity of the misuse.
- After notification, EPA will monitor to ensure that the error(s) has been corrected. Failure to make the required changes may result in termination of a Partner's participation in the Partnership and/or legal action.

VI. EPA Review Policy

EPA requires review of advertisements or collateral materials on which the Partner mark is used. Partners should contact EPA to discuss this issue.

All uses of the Partner mark should be approved by EPA. For further information, please contact Melissa Klein (klein.melissa@epa.gov) at (202) 343-9207.
