

Federal Operating Permit Program (40 CFR Part 71)
INSTRUCTION MANUAL FOR PART 71 FORMS

Who Must Apply for an Operating Permit under 40 CFR Part 71

This manual is designed to help part 71 sources apply for part 71 permits. Please refer to 40 CFR 71.3 for detailed information on which sources are subject to these requirements. These forms can be used to apply for the initial operating permit, renewals, and permit revisions for Part 71 sources and, in certain cases, revisions or re-openings to part 70 permits.

Where to File the Application Forms

The completed applications or reporting forms should be mailed to the EPA regional office responsible for permitting in the area where you are located. When a State, tribe or other permitting agency has been delegated the part 71 program, your application should be mailed to that agency. Note that certain fee-related information is mailed to a separate location.

When to File the Application Forms

A part 71 source applying for the first time is generally required to submit an application within 12 months of the effective date of the part 71 permitting program or within 12 months of the source commencing operation, whichever occurs later. If you already have a part 70 permit, you do not have to apply for a part 71 permit until the part 70 permit expires. If you are renewing a part 71 permit, the application must be submitted within the timeframe required in the existing permit. Certain part 71 forms are for reporting information during the permit term; the permit will specify when these reports should be submitted.

Information Collection Burden Estimate

The public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 247 hours per respondent per year. Send comments on the Agency's need for this information, the accuracy of the provided burden estimates, and any suggested methods for minimizing respondent burden, including through the use of automated collection techniques to the Director, Collection Strategies Division, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (2822T), 1200 Pennsylvania Ave., NW, Washington, D.C. 20460. Include the OMB control number in any correspondence. Do not send the completed form to this address.

Contact Information for EPA Regional Offices

The permitting authority for part 71 is normally the EPA regional office, but program administration may be delegated to a tribal, State, or local agency. If you have any questions about the forms or who is administering the program, please contact the appropriate EPA regional office. Regional contact information is available online at:

Payment of Fees

Part 71 sources are required to pay emissions-based fees when they initially apply and then subsequently on an annual basis. In addition, part 71 fees may be suspended where a part 71 program is fully delegated. Also, note that late fee payment or partial payment is subject to penalties and interest.

Information Made Available to the Public and Confidential Treatment of Information

Information contained in the permit application will, upon request, be made available to the public for inspection and copying. If sources wish to request confidential treatment for business information, such information should be submitted separately to the permitting authority along with a claim of confidentiality as provided in 40 CFR part 2, subpart B. The Applicants may be required by any delegate agency to provide a copy of the permit application directly to the EPA Regional office. All business confidentiality claims will be processed by the permitting authority following the procedures found in 40 CFR part 2.

Record Retention

Applicants must retain records, materials, worksheets, or other support material used in the preparation of any required forms for a period of at least 5 years from the date the information is submitted to EPA.
